

St. Mark's CofE Nursery

Weekly Newsletter w/b 14/1/19

This half term's overarching topic is 'Traditional Tales'. This week will be 'The Gingerbread Man'.

We have had a wonderful first week back at Nursery. The children have been reminded about the rules and routines of Nursery and have cooperated well with the boundaries of the setting. Lots of the children are also really working hard on writing their name and their progress is great to see.

This week we are looking at the tale of 'The Gingerbread Man'. We will be baking some gingerbread people. Before this we are going to practice and develop our mark making skills by writing a shopping list of the ingredients we need. We will be looking more at naming shapes and being able to identify their properties. We will also have role play activities throughout the week for the children to use their creative and communication skills to act out the story.

Please help:

This term for the 30 hours children, we are trialling them on picking their own lunches each morning, hoping to build their independence ready for going into Reception.

We will also be beginning a self-registration system to help develop independence, where the children will find their own name from the cloakroom.

Things to do at home:

We would like to create a display board of the children's work that they do at home. If your child has completed a piece of work which they and you are proud of, please could you send it into Nursery to be displayed proudly. It could be them writing their name, numbers or a picture

Thanks again for all your support
